Chapter 317: The Divine Fisheries of the Abyssal Depths

Sung Jin-Woo, ever the visionary, turned his gaze to the vast oceans and lakes of the realms. Beneath their shimmering surfaces lay untapped potential, and from the lesser fruits of the Divine Trees rooted in the depths, he brought forth a new creation: Divine Fishes. These extraordinary aquatic beings would sustain civilizations, provide resources, and symbolize the balance of life within the multiverse.

Divine Fishes

1. Aqua Glimmerscale

Appearance: Sleek fish with glowing, silver-blue scales that shimmer like moonlight on water.

Purpose: Their meat replenishes stamina and divine energy, and their scales are used to craft lightweight, durable armor.

2. Radiant Angelfish

Appearance: Golden fish with delicate fins that sparkle like sunlight through crystal.

Purpose: Revered for their healing properties, their presence purifies water, making it drinkable and sacred.

3. Shadow Koi

Appearance: Large, jet-black koi with glowing violet patterns on their scales.

Purpose: Consumed for their Shadow Essence, enhancing the strength of shadow-based beings.

4. Ethereal Luminfish

Appearance: Translucent fish that emit a soft, multicolored glow, resembling living rainbows.

Purpose: Their light illuminates underwater cities, and their presence promotes marine fertility and abundance.

5. Leviathan Sprites

Appearance: Small, dragon-like fish with tiny, translucent wings and golden eyes.

Purpose: Known for their Leviathan Ink, used in divine writing and crafting scrolls of immense power.

6. Starlight Eels

Appearance: Long, sinuous eels with bodies that pulse with constellations of light.

Purpose: Their meat boosts mental clarity and foresight, while their electric pulses are harvested to power divine machines.

7. Crimson Abysscarp

Appearance: Red-scaled carp with glowing white eyes and fins edged in gold.

Purpose: Known for their rich meat, which strengthens physical resilience, and their scales, used in divine weaponry.

8. Aurora Jellyfish

Appearance: Massive, translucent jellyfish that float gracefully, radiating soft auroras.

Purpose: Their tendrils exude a healing gel used in medicine, while their bioluminescent bodies light up deep waters.

9. Tempest Barracudas

Appearance: Sleek, blue-gray fish with sharp, jagged fins crackling with lightning.

Purpose: Their essence is used to forge weapons imbued with electrical power, and their meat increases agility.

10. Void Swordfish

Appearance: Black swordfish with edges of their fins and “swords” glowing faintly in dark purple.

Purpose: Their sharp, durable swords are used to forge divine weapons, and their speed inspires design in naval engineering.

11. Golden Abyssal Rays

Appearance: Large rays with golden patterns that ripple like waves over their dark backs.

Purpose: Serve as transportation for underwater civilizations and their essence aids in spiritual enlightenment.

12. Oceanfire Piranhas

Appearance: Small, fiery red fish with glowing orange fins resembling flames.

Purpose: Consumed for their fiery essence, used to enhance combatants’ ferocity and power.

13. Frostscale Minnows

Appearance: Tiny, icy-blue fish with frosted fins and a chilling aura.

Purpose: Their essence provides cooling energy for extreme environments and their meat sustains ice-dwelling beings.

Integration and Prosperity

These Divine Fishes were released into the oceans and lakes of the realms, populating their waters with unmatched vitality.

Shadowkins, Dragonkins, and other civilizations embraced fisheries as a new industry, ensuring sustainable harvesting practices blessed by Jin-Woo himself.

Divine tools were created to fish without harming the balance of these ecosystems, allowing growth and renewal.

A Cycle of Life and Divinity

The creation of these Divine Fishes further cemented Sung Jin-Woo’s vision of a flourishing multiverse. These beings not only sustained the physical needs of his subjects but also enriched their spirits, reminding them of their connection to the divine. As civilizations thrived, the oceans and lakes of the realms glowed with the light of prosperity, their depths teeming with life crafted by The Absolute One.
